

OPEN SCIENCE IN PRACTICE: OPEN ACCESS PUBLISHING

2 hours /online

4 November | 11h00 – 13h00

This seminar aims to provide PhD students at the University of Minho with a broad and functional understanding of the essential components for ensuring good open science practices in the publication of academic and scientific literature. The objective is to raise awareness of institutional policies, the requirements of science funders, including the rights retention strategy, and the services that facilitate Open Access publishing.

Contents

- Open Science in methods and results: context and introduction to concepts.
- Open Access to Publications: common misconceptions and the main advantages.
- Publishing in open access: tools for selecting journals, verifying the authenticity of publishers and
- Compliance with funders' requirements.
- Rights Retention Strategy: How to publish OA maintaining your author rights
- RepositóriUM - Institutional digital repository of the University of Minho.;

Speakers:

Pedro Principe, Antónia Correia and Ricardo Saraiva

Scientific Information, Repositories and Open Science Office - Documentation and Library Services